Reflection... By Fr Jeronimo

"If you want you can cure me"

In Luke 17:11-19, we encounter the powerful story of Jesus healing ten lepers. As Jesus travels along the border between Samaria and Galilee, these ten men, suffering from a dreadful disease that ostracized them from society, call out to Him for mercy. Their cry reflects a deep yearning for healing and restoration, not just physically, but also socially and spiritually.

What stands out in this passage is the response of the lepers. They recognize Jesus as a source of hope and healing, demonstrating faith in His ability to transform their dire situation. When He instructs them to go show themselves to the priests, they obey without hesitation, and as they go, they are cleansed. This act of faith, stepping out in obedience before seeing the manifestation of their healing, is a profound lesson for us.

However, the story takes a deeper turn when only one of the ten returns to thank Jesus. This Samaritan, an outsider in more ways than one, not only receives physical healing but also returns to express gratitude. His response highlights an essential truth: gratitude is an integral part of our relationship with God. Jesus notes this man's return and asks, "Were not ten cleansed? Where are the nine?" This rhetorical question invites us to reflect on our own lives and the frequency with which we overlook gratitude for the blessings we receive.

The Samaritan's act of returning to give thanks is a model for us. It reminds us that while we may seek God's help in times of trouble, we must also remember to acknowledge His goodness and grace in our lives. Gratitude transforms our perspective, allowing us to see not just what we have received but also the depth of God's love for us.

Moreover, Jesus concludes with a powerful statement to the Samaritan: "Rise and go; your faith has made you well." This suggests that the healing received was not just physical but encompassed a fuller restoration of his being—a holistic healing that comes through faith and gratitude.

In our journey of faith, let us strive to be like the one leper who returned. Let us cultivate a heart of thanksgiving, recognizing the blessings in our lives, both big and small. Through gratitude, we can deepen our relationship with God and experience the fullness of healing and restoration that He offers.

First Reading from the second book of the Kings 5 : 14 - 17

Naaman the leper went down and immersed himself seven times in the Jordan, as Elisha had told him to do. And his flesh became clean once more like the flesh of a little child. Returning to Elisha with his whole escort, he went in and stood before him. 'Now I know' he said, 'that there is no God in all the earth except in Israel. Now, please, accept a present from your servant.' But Elisha replied, 'As the Lord lives, whom I serve, I will accept nothing.' Naaman pressed him to accept, but he refused. Then Naaman said, 'Since your answer is "No," allow your servant to be given as much earth as two mules may carry, because your servant will no longer offer holocaust or sacrifice to any god except the Lord.'

The word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

Responsorial Psalm :

Ps 97 : 1 - 4 R. v.2

(R.) The Lord has revealed to the nations his saving power

1. Sing a new song to the Lord for he has worked wonders. His right hand and his holy arm have brought salvation. (R.)
2. The Lord has made known his salvation; has shown his justice to the nations. He has remembered his truth and love for the house of Israel. (R.)
3. All the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God. Shout to the Lord all the earth, ring out your joy. (R.)

Second Reading from the second letter of St Paul to Timothy 2 : 8 - 13

Remember the Good News that I carry. 'Jesus Christ risen from the dead, sprung from the race of David'; it is on account of this that I have my own hardships to bear, even to being chained like a criminal – but they cannot chain up God's news. So I bear it all for the sake of those who are chosen, so that in the end they may have the salvation that is in Christ Jesus and the eternal glory that comes with it. Here is a saying that you can rely on: If we have died with him, then we shall live with him. If we hold firm, then we shall reign with him. If we disown him, then he will disown us. We may be unfaithful, but he is always faithful, for he cannot disown his own self.

The word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

Gospel Acclamation

1 Thessalonians 5 : 18

Alleluia, Alleluia! For all things give thanks to God, because this is what he expects of you in Christ Jesus. Alleluia!

A Reading from the holy Gospel according to Luke 17 : 11 - 19

On the way to Jerusalem Jesus travelled along the border between Samaria and Galilee. As he entered one of the villages, ten lepers came to meet him. They stood some way off and called to him, 'Jesus! Master! Take pity on us.' When he saw them he said, 'Go and show yourselves to the priests.' Now as they were going away they were cleansed. Finding himself cured, one of them turned back praising God at the top of his voice and threw himself at the feet of Jesus and thanked him. The man was a Samaritan. This made Jesus say, 'Were not all ten made clean? The other nine, where are they? It seems that no one has come back to give praise to God, except this foreigner.' And he said to the man, 'Stand up and go on your way. Your faith has saved you.'

The Gospel of the Lord.

Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ
